Museum re-opens

The Appomattox County Historical Society re-opens June 2 at 1 p.m. The museum will be open Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Local people are encouraged to visit the museum early in the season.

The historical society's board of directors has added a new committee, the Educational Committee, chaired by Mrs. Harriet Cunningham.

She has already spoken to fourth graders in the county about the history of Appomattox County. She vividly brought the early days of the county to life for the students.

Historical Society members who are interested in speaking to groups should contact Mrs. Cunningham or Mrs. Cecil Crawley, president of the society.

Tennis tourney slated

A mixed-doubles tennis tournament will be sponsored by Lipton Iced Tea starting at 8 a.m. June 9 at the Appomattox County High School tennis courts.

Sign-up sheets are at Wilbun's Supermarket. Interested persons must register by June 6, or call tournament director, Jackie Smith, at 352-9783.

The winning team from this local Lipton Iced Tea Tournament will play in a one-day sectional tournament in Roanoke, on Aug. 4, 1984.

Sectional tournament winners will advance to a one-day regional tournament to be played at Fairfax, Aug. 26.

Regional winners - each with a guest - will receive an all-expenses-paid trip to the national tournament - place and date to be announced (the dates and sites for the sectional and regional tournaments are subject to change).

There is no fee for entry at any level of play. Each player in the local tournament is to furnish one can of new tennis balls.

The matches will be two out of three sets. The 12-point tie-breaker will be used in any set that goes to 6-all.

Happiness is 4-H

By FRANK H. SWEET
Extension Agent

The East Central District 4-H Soils Judging Contest was held last week with Appomattox having the only team in the competition. High Scoring individual was Craig Ranson, followed by Curtis Moore, Brett Marston, and Bob Poole. The Appomattox 4-H Soils Team will compete on the state level in June during the State 4-H Congress week.

Ninety-two 4-H members submitted "June is Dairy Month" posters in the annual milk poster program. The Dairy Month Poster Program is sponsored by the American Dairy Association in an effort to help young people learn to appreciate the importance of dairy products in the diet. Top winners in the 9 - 11 age group were: 1st-Mary Helen McLaughlin, 2nd-Mary Beth Hix and 3rd-Latisha Wooding. Top winners in the 12-14 age group were: 1st-Sterling Austin, 2nd-Sharla Kvasnicka and 3rd-Cheryl Johnson. Top winner in the age 15 and up age group was JoAnna Layne. Each of the above posters will be entered in the State 4-H Dairy Poster Contest in late June. The theme for this year's dairy posters was "Milk's Got More."

4-H Camp applications are due in the Extension Office by Friday, June 15. A listing of camp class offerings this year along with a 4-H camp health form are being sent to each 4-H'er who has already signed up for camp. These should be returned to us as soon as possible.

A 4-H Camp planning committee composed of young people who attended camp last year met on Tuesday of this week to discuss ideas for new activities at this summer's camp. 4-H'ers serving on the planning committee were: Tina McCoy, Matt Wilkerson, Lamont Hancock, Lori Harris, E.B. Hamlett, Daryl Dawson, Edward Martin, Quintas Johns, Shana Harvey, Kristen McDonald, Yvette Pennix, and Sharon Jackson.

Wildlife feed patch seed is available for 4-H'ers wishing to sow a feed patch this year. The seed is packaged in three-pound bags and includes millet, sunflower and grain sorghum (milo) mixed together in proper amounts during class to provide food and cover for birds and animals when they mature in late fall. Each bag of seed is designed to cover about one tenth of an acre.

The Lucky Clover 4-H Club has planned a club trip to King's Dominion on Saturday, June 2. Each member is asked to contact Kelly Webber if they plan to participate. Transportation will be provided by parents of club members.

Soil tests reports are reviewed

By JAMES A. SMITH
Counties Agent

I've spent some time recently reviewing the analysis of 1983 soil test reports for Appomattox County. There were 377 commercial samples submitted and 205 homeowner samples or a total of 582. Obviously this is not a good review of our soils pH and fertility levels even when samples are pulled every three years, as recommended.

Following are some examples of problems. Tobacco is an important cash crop, but only 32 samples submitted of these 26% had a pH higher than recommended, 18% of the fire cured samples and 24% of the flue cured samples tested VH in phosphate. This is constant with sampling across the state--we are using too much phosphorus on much of our tobacco soils. While phosphorus is extremely important, we do need to sample and determine which analysis to purchase.

Corn had 55 samples and 53% needed lime. Barley requires a higher pH level than other small grains. Only 5 samples were submitted and all needed lime. Barley acreage is up in this may suggest more testing for barley.

Alfalfa sample numbers were probably higher proportionately than for any other crop. 22 samples for maintenance and 79% needed lime. There were 12 samples for establishing alfalfa and 70% of these needed lime.

In the homeowner group, there were 50 lawn samples and 66% needed lime. The 11% vegetable garden samples showed 43% needed lime.

Now is a good time to check fields for next falls seeding of small grain, alfalfa and pasture. Pull the samples while corn, tobacco and soybean plants are small and where lime is needed, get it on as soon as possible.

Soil sampling requires anticipation. Anticipate what you will be planting and get the test in at least six months in advance. This gives you a number of management options that should mean more dollars in the pocket.

The 1984 Virginia Farm Management Tour will be in Clarke-Frederick counties, July 31. Brochures on this event are available from this office.

Wheat yield data is in showing that Virginia averaged 38 bu. in '83 and 42 bushels in '82. Appomattox County averaged 34 bu. in '82 and 37.5 in '83.

A Hardwood Log and Lumber Grading Workshop is scheduled June 12 - 15 at Dabney Lancaster Community College, Clifton Forge.

If you are growing or considering growing Christmas trees for pruning and management demonstrations are scheduled beginning June 15 at Athins, Va.; June 19, Montebello, Va.; June 20, Gilberts Corner, Va.; June 21, Virginia Beach, Va. Programs are available from this office.

In 1983 there were 3,558 corn silage samples sent to the forage testing lab. They averaged 37% dry matter and 21% ADF (fiber). Quality was lower than usual as you could expect (higher ADF and lower energy).

There were 1694 hay samples testing 13% crude protein and 42% fiber - lower protein.

696 hay crop silage samples tested average, 29% dry m atter, 16.7% crude protein and 40% fiber.

Tobacco transplanting is progressing good, a number of growers have completed the task.

Remember there are several good herbicides that can be used to control grass and weeds.

Strawberries are in-one of the delights of the spring.

Haynsworth Jr., an honorary doctor of laws.

Auditions slated

Auditions for Godspell will be held at 8 p.m. on June 5 and 6 at the Appomattox County High School Auditorium. The musical is being produced by Depot Dramatics and has roles for five males and five females.

Anyone interested in auditioning may call Joyce Sweet at 248-5390 for audition music. Several musicians are needed for the show.

In addition there are openings for an assistant director, stage manager, and many other technical positions. Volunteers will be necessary to help with props, set construction and tickets.

"Working with the summer theatre in an exciting and enjoyable way to get involved in your community," said Joyce Sweet.

YAZOO BIG WHEEL.
Engineered for tough mowing.
Give your crew the Yazoo Big Wheel—designed to work best under tough conditions. Built for heavy-duty, prolonged commercial use, the Big Wheel is balanced for easier handling. Raise the cutting deck to cut high grass with almost no effort because the engine's weight is balanced over the big drive wheels.
Because the engine is behind the cutting deck, it cuts right down to the water's edge while operator and drive wheels stay high and dry. Cuts grass under fences, branches and shrubs that most mowers can't reach. Belt drive protects from damaging shocks to the engine in case the blade hits obstructions. Dependable Briggs & Stratton industrial/commercial engines with cast iron cylinder sleeves provide the power for your Big Wheel. For industrial grade components, designs that help your crew work faster and longer than average, it's clear that the smart mower investment is a Yazoo Big Wheel.

Hints for the Outdoor Cook
(Note: Because of requests, I am again sharing this article (revised) with you.)

Good News For Homemakers
HOME ECONOMICS

With outdoor cooking in full swing, it's time to get ready for several months of outdoor fun and fellowship. Regardless of your menu or equipment, you may need some helpful hints in order to make your cookouts easier and the food taste better. I wish to suggest the following hints for you to use when preparing foods outside for your family:

1. Build a fire only large enough for the amount of food to be grilled. Do not waste your charcoal. It costs money! Allow about 30 minutes for the charcoal briquets to turn ash gray before putting food on the grill. When using gas or electric heat, preheat the grill following the users manual.

2. Place meat 4 to 5 inches above the heat, unless cooking instructions state otherwise. Just before pieces of meat are completely done, move them to the outer edge of the grill where they will finish cooking and remain hot, but won't cook as rapidly as cuts in the center directly over the heat.

3. When grilling steaks, turn them only once. Turning frequently dries out the meat. Always use tongs to turn steaks. A fork will pierce the meat and allow the juice to escape. To prevent steak from curling while grilling, score, or slit the fat along the edge about 1½ inch intervals before placing the meat on the grill.

4. Food may be basted during the entire cooking time or during the last half hour depending on the ingredients in the sauce. Remember that a sauce containing sugar will burn readily and cause the surface of the meat to brown excessively. This should be applied during the last 15 to 30 minutes of cooking time. A long-handled cotton dish mop works best for basting and
